

If I can get local info on satellite tv why would you even entertain the thought that I can't have local info on my radio. I spend extremely long hours in the car and my radio is the only way to keep up with road, weather and other info. If I had to continuously search for stations I wouldn't be paying attention to our over crowded, poorly maintained highway system. Stop wasting money with this and get on to important issues.